

Inmate of lunatic asylum to farmer on truck: "Hey, what are you going to do with that manure?"

Farmer: "Why, I'm going to put it on my strawberries."

Inmate: "I'm glad I'm in here."

Farmer: "Why?"

Inmate: "Because in here we get sugar and cream on ours."

Bill Hrdlicka (at police station): "Could I see the man who was arrested for robbing our house last night?"

Cap. Kirk: "This is very irregular. Why do you want to see him?"

Bill: "I don't mind telling you, Captain. — I only want to ask him how he got in the house without awakening my wife."

* *

"Joe Matejka speaks Bohemian like a native."

"Yeah, like a native Greek."

* *

"Little boy, how old is your mother?"

"Oh, she was forty-two, but she's marked down to twenty-seven."

* *

We don't like to tell this, but it is too good to pass up. Some of the boys were engaged in a hot dice game, when a certain well-known personage walked in on them. Rudy Bettlach nonchalantly lit a Murad and said: "Believe it or not, Father, this is a charity game."

* *

"Can you beat that?" cried the archaeologist as he gazed at the big dinosaur egg.

* *

Brother: "Why all the quotation marks on this examination sheet?"

Pete Hasik: "Just courtesy to my neighbor, Brother."

* *

Policeman: "Why are you racing through town like this?"

Kiske: "My brakes are out of order and I wanted to get home before there is an accident."

* *

"Say, do you know Josephine Selucky?"

"Certainly. — Why?"

"Is she really married?"

"Well, if she isn't, I'm in an awful fix."

"Why?"

"Because, I'm her husband."

Mable: "It doesn't matter whether I wear chiffon or velvet; you like me just the same, don't you?"

Joseph: "I'll always love you through thick and thin."

* *

Lady: "This milk isn't good any more."

Milkman: "I know it, lady. Our cows haven't been contended since they tore down the tobacco sign with the handsome bull on it."

* *

Lill Selucky: "Stop biting your fingernails, Steve, — you're all I have left."

Leave me with a smile.

"See if you can laugh THAT off", said Mrs. Wm. Brynda, as she wired the button to his vest.

* *

Marie Hamsik: What big eyes you have, grandmother.

Grandmother: And that is how I caught your grandfather, my dear.

* *

Chicago was settled in 1833 and at rare intervals since then. —Notre Dame Juggler.

* *

Says the Y. M. S. philosopher: "Women keep a watch over their wrists these days, even if they don't over their hearts."

* *

Nahlik: I just swallowed a great big worm.

Ondrus: Don't you think you ought to take something for it?

Nahlik: No, I'll just let the durn thing starve.

* *

Tony Mikes: Do you think spectacles help you any?

Bill Bettlach: Do they! They've kept three guys from hitting me.

* *

Said one firefly to another: I never want to see you again. You glow your way and I'll glow mine.

* *

Vince: My girl is the exact type of a famous movie actress.

All together: Aw Gwan!

Vince: Sure, that's right. Marie Dressler.

* *

A beerwagon ran over a Scotchman, and for once the drinks were on him.

* *

Annie: Why's your face so red?

Josephine: 'Cause.

Annie: 'Cause why?

Josephine: Causmetics.

* *

Ally Tikwart got up from the bottom of the pile and remarked: "See here, you fellows, I've got a pretty cool temper, but my feet don't like to stand around and see my body abused."

* *

Professor: Will you please quit passing notes back there?

Vince: These aren't notes. Those are dollar bills. We're shooting craps.

Professor: Oh, pardon me.

* *

Some girls smoke. That is their substitute for thought. —Ala. Rammer-Jammer.

* *

Says Steve Drbousek: I can't play billiards any more. Every time I see the three balls, they remind me of the overcoat I hocked last summer.

* *

You're right, brother Smith, even at winter parties the daughters of garbage men are not to be sniffed at. —Wesleyan Wasp.

* *

Our idea of a philosopher: The chap who brought six empty champagne bottles back from Europe, so that he could laugh when the customs inspector found them. —Yale Record.

* *

"Hello, Mamie, I understand Bill gave you a new Ford for your birthday."

"Yes, he did. What did Jerry give you?"

"Only the Willys, dear, only the Wyllis."

—Wisconsin Octopus.
